Highly Improbable that the Debt Confer ence Will Result in a ed that they represented about twelve millions of the Virginia debt held by Englishmen and one or two millions more the Council of Foreign Bondholders, but our committeemen were advised that any agreement entered into by the conneil would no doubt secure the funding of all these bonds and proba-

In other words, they have exactly the powers of the legislative committee— to negotiate and report to their principals for ratification. To several members of our commit-not so.

But even if Messrs. Thornton and Emithwaite represent, in the manner stated, a sufficient number of bonds to justify negotiations with them, they and the legislative committee are hopelessly wide apart. They have un-bosomed themselves to this extent that they will not accept the Riddle-berger bill or anything like it. There is hardly any reason to suppose that they would assent to 3 per cent, on the undiminished principal—$31,000,000.

Mr. Massey yesterday morning expeunded to the Englishmen the position of the people of Virginia, and after that Mr. Eraithwaite was heard, and it was thereupon seen more clearly than ever before that the conferrees are too far apart ever, under present circumstances, to come together.

Hon, John L. Buchanan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, several weeks ago called a conference of the county and city school superintendents throughout the State to be held in the hall of the House of Delegates on the 18th and 19th of this month. When this was done there was nothing to intidicate that the extra session of the Legislature would be protracted until that time. The probability now being that the session will continue longer than then, and that there may for this reason be some trouble about getting the use of the hall, Dr. Buchanan is considering the matter, and it is nother notice recalling the former one and fixing new dates for the conference.

MILITARY COMMANDS

GENERAL ANDERSON'S ORDERS RE-GARDING THE NATIONAL DRILL.

What Virginia Will Do For Her Voluntees Militia- Programme of the Camp, &c.

Brigadier-General Charles J. Anderon has issued the following orders in relation to the national encampment in Washington this month:

relation to the national encampment in Washington this month:

In obedience to General Orders No 1, of date April 221, from the Commander-in-Chief, I assume command of all Virginis troops intending to participate in the national drill and encampment at Washington May 23 to 31, 1887.

Any regiment or part of a regiment, troop, or battery aiready entered can avail itself of the camp privilege and provisions of the Military Beard by obeying the terms of the circular from the Adjutant-General's office requiring full regulation uniform, officers commissioned, and companies of not less than twenty-four men, two guides, and two officers: Provided further, that two companies may combine to make this number in the event of all the mon of each being unable to go.

The camp will continue six days from Monday, May 234, to retreat on Saturday, 28th (though any organization en application may remain longer), and will be governed by such orders as may be issued by the major-general commanding the camp; it being distinctly understoed by all that this is strictly a camp for drill and instruction.

Transportation will be furnished by the State Military Beard, and each commanding officer of a regiment or battalion will forward to these headquarters as soon as this order can be obeyed the account of each railroad or transpertation company.

The colonel of the Fourth regiment will cause his regiment to be transported by boat from Norfolk to Washington Sunday night, May 23d, reporting as early on May 23d as possible. He will provide also for Battery B, First tattalion artillery.

The colonel of the First, with six companies and drum corps, will take train before 7 o'clock May 23d, reporting as warding to a train to leave Banville at or near davbreak May 23d, reporting at Washington as near II o'clock as possible. He will provide also for Battery B, First tattalion artillery, First battalion artillery, and Troop C, First battalion artillery, and Troop C, First battalion artillery, and Troop C, First battalion artillery, and Troop C,

Baggage transpertation from railroad station in Washington to camp will be furnished by the National Brill Committee.

Field and staff officers must provide their own horses on parade Governors' day, May 25th. Transportation for horses not allowed.

Blanket-bags, haversacks, and canteens will be issued.

Binnket-bags, haversacks, and canteens will be issued.

The State has no supplies of blankets or overceats or other material. Regimental and battailon commanders will cause their men, in addition to their equipment, to bring a bed-sack made 6.2x3 of cotton cloth, or some cheap material, which, being filled with straw, can be used for bedding.

Each regimental and battailon commander will in advance provide rations for his men, either by transporting rations, cooks, and utensils to the camp or by arranging with some responsible person to have the same supplied in camp, the hours and details being strictly and carefully arranged so as to conform to the general orders regulating the same.

A Card from Mr. John A. Henley.

In the eard recently published by Dr. A. Monteiro, late assistant physician in the Eastern Lunaric Asylum, endeavoring to account for his not being re-elected to the position formerly occupied by him, the Doctor has failed to mention the following matters—viz.: The report submitted by the legislative committee appointed to investigate the condition of the said asylum sets out the following: "Your committee is also of opinion from the testimony that certain of the officials connected—to viz.—and —, and Menteiro, second assistant, and others of the employees of the institution, have been seen at the asylum and on the streets of Williamsburg in a state of intoxication." That of the officers mentioned in this report, and —, were not nominated for re-election, that the present board passed the following resolution: "That if any officer or employees of this asylumb as a lary time found under the influence of intoxicants, if an officer, he shall be auspended by the Superintoxication is once and his case reported to the beard at its near meeting; if an employee, he shall be decharged and the action of the superintoxication is acts case reported." This may explain the failty is to re-elect the Doctor. JOHN & HENLEY.
